

International Youth Day

International Youth Day, celebrated on August 12 each year, highlights various issues affecting young people globally. Here are some key issues that need to be addressed:

- 1. Education: Access to quality education remains a significant challenge. Many youth lack access to basic education, vocational training, and higher education opportunities.
- 2. Employment: High youth unemployment rates are a critical issue. Many young people struggle to find decent work, facing challenges such as lack of experience and skills mismatches.
- 3. Mental Health: Mental health issues among youth, including anxiety and depression, are increasingly prevalent.
- 4. Climate Change: Young people are increasingly at the forefront of climate activism, as they will bear the brunt of environmental degradation and climate change impacts.
- Health: Access to healthcare is crucial. Many young people lack information and resources related to their health.
- Technology and Digital Literacy: While technology offers opportunities, the digital divide can exclude those without access to the internet or digital skills.
- Violence and Conflict: Many youth live in regions affected by violence or conflict, impacting their safety and development.
- 8. Gen Z: Many youth belong to the Gen Z category, who have different aspirations and ambitions.

These issues are interconnected and require comprehensive strategies to address them effectively. At ADU, we are doing everything we can to support our youth and their causes. Let's celebrate international youth day by demonstrating every support to the youth and their ambitions.
