UAE Interdisciplinary Education and Research Summit 2025

I will be speaking tomorrow at the UAE Interdisciplinary Education and Research Summit 2025, hosted by Zayed University. I am honored to participate in a panel titled "Breaking Silos: The Power of Interdisciplinary Education." This summit aims to bring together leading academics, innovators, students, and policymakers to explore how interdisciplinary collaboration is advancing education, research, and innovation across the UAE and the wider region.

I look forward to sharing insights and engaging with fellow participants on the transformative potential of interdisciplinary education.
