Hard Work Pays Off: The Leadership of Dr Dina Imad Joumblatt

I am profoundly grateful for the exceptional leadership of my colleague, Dr. Dina Imad Joumblatt, Ph.D., Head of the Department at the College of Law. Under the guidance of Dean Professor Talaat Dowidar and the steadfast support of Dr. Mohammed Razik Parakandi, Director of Accreditation, along with a dedicated team from the College of Law, Dr. Dina has played a pivotal role in securing the re-accreditation of our Bachelor in Law, Master in Public Law, and Master in Private Law by the Commission for Academic Accreditation (CAA).

Dr. Dina's dedication and hard work are truly commendable. She has tirelessly advocated for academic excellence and has been a driving force behind the approval of our new PhD and Master's programs in Cyber Law and Artificial Intelligence. Her vision and commitment to innovation in legal education are inspiring, reflecting her deep understanding of the evolving landscape of law in the digital age.

Dr. Dina holds a PhD in Law from the Lebanese University, a Master's degree from the University of Montpellier 1, and a Bachelor's degree from the Lebanese University. Her extensive academic background, coupled with her leadership skills and loyalty, positions her as a cornerstone of our academic community. We are fortunate to have her guiding us toward new horizons in legal education.

Additionally, Dr. Dina is very active on social media, particularly LinkedIn where she promotes the University's many achievements, especially those within the College of Law.
