Knowledge Group Consulting Has Officially Acquired Biz Group

I am happy to share that Knowledge Group Consulting (part of NEMA Education) has officially acquired Biz Group, one of the region's most respected and innovative learning and development companies. This strategic move brings together two organizations united by a passion for people, learning, and impact.

In the presence of several executive leaders from both sides, the agreement was signed by Dr. Ali Bin Harmal Aldhaheri, Ph.D., Chairman of NEMA Education, and Hazel Jackson, founder and CEO of Biz Group. With its extensive experience spanning three decades in delivering effective development experiences in both the public and private sectors, Biz Group will contribute significantly to Knowledge Group Consulting's efforts to elevate human capabilities and competencies in the Middle East and North Africa, preparing them to face challenges and seize emerging opportunities through effective and innovative training and consulting solutions.

Following the acquisition, both groups will continue to operate under their current leadership teams and brand names, ensuring business continuity for all clients and partners.

This is more than an acquisition; it's a powerful alignment of purpose, people, and possibility.

On behalf of Abu Dhabi University, I would like to congratulate, our visionary chairman, Dr Ali Bin Harmal Aldhaheri, Ph.D., Dr Ahmad Badr, and Ms Hazel Jackson, and all colleagues who contributed to this fantastic business development.
