About the Editor

Anton John Crace serves as the Editor in Chief of QS Insights Magazine. With over a decade of experience writing about the international higher education sector, Anton has received accolades such as the Universities Australia Higher Education Journalist of the Year and the International Education Association of Australia award for Excellence in Professional Commentary.

Cover Story Highlight

The cover story delves into unconventional education, addressing the common perceptions surrounding degrees that may seem to hold "lesser value," such as baking or comic book studies.

Life should be rich and diverse, and as the latest edition of QS Insights Magazine argues, these unconventional degrees offer practical, real-world benefits. The films we love and the food we savor are both influenced by the innovative perspectives these programs cultivate.

Celebrate the Uniqueness of Higher Education

I encourage you to take the opportunity to read this edition and celebrate the uniqueness and diversity of higher education.

Additionally, Prof. ANAS RATIB ALSOUD, Executive Director of the Association of Arab Universities and a member of the QS Global Advisory Committee for the Middle East, is featured in an interview on the topic of soft power. Read his insights here: The Power of Knowledge Diplomacy
